J. Edgar Hoover Tells R. F. Kennedy Of President's Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was having lunch with U.S. Atty. Robert Morgenthau of New York when FBI Director J. Edgar called to tell him that President Kennedy had been shot.

Later the attorney general was seen walking about the grounds of his Hickory Hills estate in MacLean, Va., a suburb of the nation's capital.

He walked alone, head down, shoulders hunched, his hands in his pockets.

The ground around Kennedy's huge white mansion was surrounded by about 10 Fairfax County, Va., policemen who kept everyone except "personal friends" of the Kennedy family from the premises.
